THE NAVY AND NARRAGANSETT BAY

From its infancy during the Revolutionary War to its present day sophistication, the United States Navy has been an integral part of Narragansett Bay. As the first commander in chief of the Continental Navy, Rhode Islander Esek Hopkins used the bay as a haven for his small fleet between combat engagements.

After the revolution, American men of war were common sights in the upper and lower bay, even though the Navy was small and often engaged in other conflicts on the high seas, such as the war with Tripoli, the War of 1812 and the Mexican War. However, there were periods when naval activity in the bay area was at a standstill. Following official recognition of U.S. independence in the Treaty of Paris, there was a general demobilization of the armed forces; the Navy, in consequence, was virtually forgotten.

During the Civil War, the Navy came back to life in Newport. To avoid capture by the Confederates, the government transferred the faculty and students of the U.S. Naval Academy from Annapolis to Newport, where it operated for about four years. When it moved back to Annapolis, the Navy had become more organized and had acquired a degree of permanence.

The year 1869 marked the beginning of one of the most significant and best-known Navy landmarks in Narragansett Bay. In that year, the secretary of the Navy authorized establishment of an experimental torpedo station at Goat Island. The station was responsible for developing torpedoes and conducting experimental work on other forms of naval ordnance. Its fame, importance and contributions made during its 83 years are legendary in the Rhode Island area. A major economic and military installation in Rhode Island from the day of its establishment, the Torpedo Station reached its peak importance in World War II when more than 13,000 employees worked around the clock to manufacture 80 percent of the torpedoes used by the United States during the war. The station was the largest single industry ever operated in Rhode Island. In 1951, it was replaced by the Naval Underwater Ordnance Station on the base, and Goat Island was transferred to the city of Newport. Redevelopment of the island included a causeway, luxury hotel and restaurant, marina, shopping facilities and apartments.

A Sailor learned most of his trade on the job until the last two decades of the 19th century. In the 1880s a new concept of shore-based training for officers and men was developed, and again the Navy turned to Narragansett Bay.

In 1881, the Navy acquired Coasters Harbor Island from the state, and on June 4, 1883, the island became home to the Navy's first recruit training station. On Oct. 6, 1884, the Naval War College was established on the island. By the turn of the century, classroom lecture notes of the college's second president, Alfred Thayer Mahan, had been published in book form, "The Influence of Sea Power Upon History," and the Naval War College had taken its place at the forefront of maritime strategic thought.

The advent of steam-powered ships made it necessary for the Navy to set up coaling stations for the fleet. Just before the turn of the century, one of the largest coaling stations in the country was established at Melville and it attracted many battleships and cruisers to East Passage anchorages to "coal ship."

By 1913, the Navy had acquired Government Landing in downtown Newport and had constructed the naval hospital on the mainland of Aquidneck Island adjacent to Coasters Harbor Island. This extension of the Navy was accelerated several years later when the United States entered World War I. As thousands of recruits flooded into Newport, the Navy acquired Coddington Point to accommodate overflow from the training station on Coasters Harbor Island. After the war, the Washington Disarmament Conference drastically reduced the Navy's budget and curtailed expansion of naval facilities.

The threat of a major war against the Third Reich perked up naval activity once again in Narragansett Bay. In 1940, the base developed rapidly. Coddington Point was reactivated to house the many thousands of recruits being trained at Newport, Coddington Cove was acquired as a Supply Station, and new fuel facilities were built at Melville, along with a PT-boat training center and a net depot. In November 1942, then-Lt. j.g. John F. Kennedy completed PT-boat training at Melville. A memorial stone there marks the site of this former training area. The area went into a military growth boom. Anchorage Housing was built, Sachuest Point was acquired, a harbor defense unit and communications station were constructed on Jamestown Island and Congress appropriated money to build a naval air station at Quonset Point on the west side of the bay. By the time the air station went into operation in 1941, plans had been completed for another facility adjacent to Quonset. In 1942, the Davisville Advanced Base Depot, predecessor to the former Davisville Construction Battalion, was established. Narragansett Bay became one of the Navy's largest installations at the time in the brief period of three years.

After the war, many temporary units in the bay area began to deactivate. In 1946, the entire naval complex on Aquidneck Island was consolidated under a single military command, designated as U.S. Naval Base Newport.

The Navy in Narragansett Bay adjusted to peacetime by increasing its activities in the fields of research, development, and training and preparing for modern warfare. Except for the brief period during the Korean War, when more than 25,000 Sailors trained at Newport, the Navy applied its efforts to these three major areas.

HISTORY

In 1951, the Torpedo Station was permanently disestablished and the manufacture of torpedoes was awarded to private industry. A new research and development facility, the Naval Underwater Ordnance Station, replaced the Torpedo Station. In February 1966, the Ordnance Station and the Naval Underwater Weapons Systems Engineering Center were combined to better coordinate all underwater programs pursued at the naval base. A merger in 1970 with another naval activity in New London, Connecticut, created what is now the Naval Undersea Warfare Center.

In 1952, the Naval Training Station at Newport was disestablished by the transfer of recruit training to Bainbridge, Maryland. However, the Fleet Training Center and Naval School Command, established several years earlier at Newport, continued to provide specialized training to fleet personnel. The Officer Candidate School, which opened in 1951, became the Navy's primary source for junior Naval Reserve officers.

Piers 1 and 2 were built in 1955 and 1958, respectively, to accommodate ships of the Cruiser-Destroyer Force and Service Force. Naval supply and public works facilities were expanded at this time to support the fleet, and Headquarters, Commander Cruiser-Destroyer Force, Atlantic, was established at Newport in 1962. This command moved to Norfolk, Virginia, in July 1973.

Earlier in 1973, a Shore Establishment Realignment study directed the closing of the Quonset Point Naval Air Station, a drawdown of facilities at Davisville, the movement of the active fleet from Newport, and a cutback of personnel and activities. Five previously independent commands were disestablished and their personnel absorbed by a new activity — the Naval Education and Training Center.

A ceremony on Oct. 1, 1998, established Naval Station Newport as the primary host command, taking over base operating support responsibilities from the Naval Education and Training Center. The commanding officer, NS Newport, reports directly to Commander, Navy Region Mid-Atlantic.

WELCOME

THE NAVY IN NEWPORT

Welcome to Naval Station Newport — home to 50 Navy, U.S. Marine Corps, U.S. Army Reserve, U.S. Coast Guard, and National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration commands and activities. Newport is the Navy's premier site for training officers, officer candidates, senior enlisted personnel and midshipman candidates, as well as testing and evaluating advanced undersea warfare and development systems.

NS Newport's mission is to fulfill the diverse requirements of its tenant commands by providing the facilities and infrastructure essential to their optimum performance.

Naval personnel assigned to Newport come from all parts of the United States and many other nations. The naval installation mirrors a miniature America, with an international flavor. Both its military and civilian personnel are deeply involved in local community affairs and play active roles in local schools, service clubs, Sea Cadets, scouting and other popular youth activities.

The Navy's economic impact in Rhode Island is legendary. For many years, it was the state's largest single employer in terms of personnel and payroll, and it is still the largest single employer in Newport County and third overall in the state.

Approximately 12,000 active and reserve military, government employees and contractors work at the 50 various commands and activities on NS Newport with an additional 17,000 students annually passing through one of the many schools on base. NS Newport has undergone significant growth as a result of the 2005 Base Realignment and Closure recommendations. NS Newport became home to the Navy Supply Corps School, the Center for Service Support and the U.S. Marine Corps Aviation Logistics School, all formerly in Athens, Georgia.

Newport is also the home of the Navy's most prestigious educational institution — the Naval War College — the oldest such institution in continuous existence anywhere in the world. The college is organized to pursue and integrate both academic and research endeavors. Each year approximately 600 outstanding midcareer-level officers of the Navy, all other U.S. services, civilian federal agencies and international naval officers come here to pursue a rigorous 10-month course of postgraduate studies following in the footsteps of such notable War College graduates as Fleet Admirals Chester W. Nimitz, Ernest J. King and William "Bull" Halsey; Adm. Raymond Spruance; Ambassador Christopher R. Hill, former assistant secretary of state for East Asian affairs; Gen. Michael Hagee, former commandant, U.S. Marine Corps; Rear Adm. Alan B. Shepard, first American in space; and Gen. John M. Shalikashvili, former chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff.

More than half the graduates of the college's senior international course, the Naval Command College, have gone on to become flag or general officers, with many being chosen to head their respective services. The college's Center for Naval Warfare Studies leads the Navy in its maritime strategic thought. The center's war gaming facility conducts some 60 major war games annually in support of the college's research efforts, as well as fleet and Department of Defense requirements.

Officer Training Command Newport is the largest officer accessions point in the Navy, with a mission to prepare Sailors and Marines, through enduring professional and personal development, to lead as officers in the fleet. OTCN currently delivers five separate officer accession and indoctrination programs and provides oversight to three of the Navy's technical training facilities.

Another important educational institution is the Surface Warfare Officers School Command. SWOS trains surface warfare officers from the time they are commissioned until they have command at sea.

Newport also has the Naval Justice School, which trains personnel of the Defense Department in military law and related matters.

Another large and prestigious command is the Naval Undersea Warfare Center Division Newport, marking its 151st year in Newport in 2020. It is the Navy's principal research, development, test and evaluation center for submarine weapons systems whose research facilities stretch from Connecticut to the Bahamas.

Naval Health Clinic New England, Newport provides general clinical and ancillary outpatient services for active-duty and retired service members and authorized family members; it cooperates with military and civilian authorities in matters of health, sanitation, disaster and other emergencies.

Other commands and activities in Newport include the Naval Leadership and Ethics Center; the Defense Institute of International Legal Studies; Explosive Ordnance Disposal Mobile Unit 12 Detachment, Newport; the Naval Academy Preparatory School; the Naval Facilities Engineering Command Norfolk — Newport Detachment; Navy Band Northeast; the Senior Enlisted Academy; Coastal Riverine Squadron 8; and more.

The Center for Service Support, headquartered in Fitzgerald Hall across from the Surface Warfare Officers School Command, is an institution of learning excellence leading the professional development charge within the Navy's seven administrative, logistics and media ratings as well as the Supply Corps officer community. Established in 2003, CSS continues to grow and build upon the successes of the Navy's training philosophies that led to alternative training venues, such as the integrated learning environment, Navy Knowledge Online and blended training solutions (computer-based training mixed with instructor-led training). With more than 300 military, civilian and contracted instructors, curriculum developers and learning site managers around the fleet, CSS's mission is to provide valuable knowledge and expertise to Sailors serving in these customer-supported communities. CSS staff members do this by working hand-in-hand with fleet subject-matter experts to share and build upon lessons learned and best practices throughout the Navy. Training managers, specifically, work closely with fleet technical experts to provide skill and experience to ensure their products meet the needs of today's Sailors. The CSS domain's instructors and support staff at their seven learning sites graduate approximately 10,000 students per year.

Facebook: www.facebook.com/

Defense-Institute-of-International-
Legal-Studies-150247704992963

The Defense Institute of International Legal Studies is the defense security cooperation resource for professional legal education, training and rule of law programs for international military and related civilians. Through mobile education teams, resident courses and other programs, DIILS develops and implements effective security cooperation programs to build partner legal capacity, including equitable, transparent and accountable security sectors, civilian control of the military, respect for human rights and good governance.

A critical mission goal is to build partners' security-sector legal capacity by sharing methods of addressing legal and military challenges and lessons learned from contingency operations. Programs focus on contemporary legal challenges faced by partner military and civilian leaders, among them military justice, the legal aspects of combating terrorism and corruption, the defense institution-building aspects of security sector reform, the law of armed conflict and human rights, and the day-to-day challenges of running professional militaries under civilian oversight.

DIILS is a component of the Defense Security Cooperation Agency and works with stakeholders to ensure their programs are current and consistent with U.S. strategic goals and policies. DIILS also works closely with the geographic combatant commands to coordinate programs in their areas of focus.

The Marine Corps' mission aboard NS Newport has changed many times since 1894 when the Marine Corps first established a permanent tenant command in Newport. Today, Marine Corps Detachment Newport has the mission of training Marine Aviation Logistics Tactical Information System (known as ALTIS) specialists while providing administrative, logistical and headquarters support to more than 200 Marine Corps instructors and students attached to naval training commands in the region.

In 2010, the Marine Corps presence doubled with the relocation of the ALTIS course from Athens, Georgia, to the renovated Beirut Memorial Hall (named in honor of the nine Marines from Rhode Island who died in the 1983 Beirut Barracks bombing) on Coddington Point. The ALTIS School conducts a 30-week accession-level course where enlisted Marines earn the military occupational specialty of 6694. The course provides intensive training on hardware, software, networking, internetworking and system administrator skills for the stand-alone information technology systems and assets critical to a Marine Corps aircraft group in garrison and while deployed.

Beirut Memorial Hall is the epicenter of support for Marine Corps Training Command instructors and students in four Marine Corps military occupational specialty pipelines as well as Marine Corps drill instructors at Officer Training Command, Newport. In addition, the Marine Corps Detachment provides support for Marines attached to the Naval Justice School, Naval War College, Naval Academy Preparatory School, Defense Institute of International of Legal Studies and Survival Evasion Resistance Escape East.

Twitter: @NOAAShipHenryBigelow

The 209-foot NOAA Ship Henry B. Bigelow supports NOAA's mission to protect, restore and manage the use of living marine, coastal and ocean resources through ecosystem-based management. Its primary objective is to study, monitor and collect data on a wide range of sea life and ocean conditions, primarily in U.S. waters from Maine to North Carolina. The region includes Georges Bank, one of the world's best known and most productive marine areas. Bigelow's "quiet" hull is a design feature built to International Council for Exploration of the Seas standards to minimize sound made by the ship underwater. This allows scientists to use hydro-acoustic methods for surveying marine life and significantly reduces changes in the natural behavior of animals caused by ship noise. The ship is named after Henry Bryant Bigelow (1879-1967), a Harvard-educated zoologist whose work contributed to the scholarly foundation for oceanography as a scientific discipline. He served on the Harvard faculty for 62 years, published more than 100 scientific papers (many of them seminal works), and was the first director of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution.

The Naval Academy Preparatory School is the Navy's fourth-oldest school; only the Naval Academy, Naval War College and Naval Postgraduate School are older.

The Naval Academy Preparatory School's mission is to enhance midshipman candidates' moral, mental and physical foundations to prepare them for success at the U.S. Naval Academy. The 10-month course of instruction at NAPS, from July through May, emphasizes preparation in English composition, mathematics, chemistry, physics and other academic subjects.

Demanding military, physical and character development programs complement the academic preparation to fully prepare students for the challenges they will face at the Naval Academy. As part of the physical development program, NAPS has a varsity athletic program that competes against other preparatory schools, junior colleges and college junior varsity teams throughout the Northeast.

Facebook: www.facebook.com/NavalChaplaincySchoolCenter

Originally called the Naval Chaplains School (NCS), the Naval Chaplaincy School and Center (NCSC) came into existence in February 1942 when large numbers of civilian clergy, most with no military experience, entered the Navy in World War II. These pastors, priests and rabbis stepped forward to meet the religious needs of the millions of young men and women who were joining the Navy and Marine Corps for the war-time emergency.

Today, the training for chaplains and Religious Program Specialists is done at Naval Station Newport. All chaplains and chaplain candidates participate in the same seven-week course of instruction. RPs receive accession training concurrent with the chaplains.

Thereafter, annual professional development and training courses offered at a variety of sites worldwide help the chaplains and RPs remain current in the delivery of religious ministry. At intermediate and advanced levels, chaplains and RPs return to NCSC for additional training and education designed to better equip them for increased responsibilities on the operational and strategic levels.

Website: www.ncis.navy.mil

The Naval Criminal Investigative Service, Northeast Field Office, Newport, is one of 15 NCIS geographical field offices throughout the world. NCIS is a civilian federal law enforcement agency responsible for conducting felony-level criminal, counterintelligence, counterterrorism and security-related investigations to support the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps worldwide.

The NCIS Northeast Field Office, in concert with NCIS, mandates to prevent terrorism, protect U.S. Navy technology and reduce crime. The field office is responsible for a geographic area encompassing Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the Canadian provinces of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

The NCIS mission in the Northeast is accomplished via 17 resident offices subordinate to the Northeast Field Office, Newport.

In addition to their investigative responsibilities, NCIS routinely conducts protective operations in support of high ranking DOD and DON officials and visiting foreign dignitaries, provides operational security threat assessment surveys and presents criminal awareness briefs to commands.

NAVAL FACILITIES ENGINEERING COMMAND (NAVFAC)

As an integral part of the NAVFAC enterprise, those in NAVFAC Mid-Atlantic are the Navy's installation facilities experts, managing the planning, design and construction of shore facilities for 13 installations across the region from Maine to North Carolina. Headquartered in Norfolk, Virginia, they fully support the mission of Commander, Navy Region Mid-Atlantic and Commander, Navy Installations Command to enable and enhance Navy combat power by providing the most effective, efficient and cost-wise shore services and support. They deliver best-value facilities engineering and acquisition through their business lines and integrated product teams: Capital Improvements; Environmental; Asset Management and Public Works. These business lines and integrated product teams provide regionalized support to public works departments in the field to improve engineering and acquisition quality and timelines, reduce backlog and carryover, ensure a strong return on investment, reduce unnecessary infrastructure, and improve safety and environmental compliance.

NAVFAC Mid-Atlantic operates with an annual Navy Working Capital Fund business volume of approximately $560 million and executes more than $1.5 billion a year in construction, professional engineering and facilities services for the Navy and Marine Corps. Its professional workforce includes more than 100 military and 3,300 civilian personnel.

Environmental Division

Program Contact: 401-841-7671

Website: www.cnic.navy.mil/Newport (click on "Operations Management," then on "Environmental Support")

The Environmental Division's mission is to manage environmental protection programs at NS Newport. Adhering to the Navy's policies contained in OPNAVINST 5090.1C, the Environmental and Natural Resource Manual, the Environmental Division takes the lead in pollution prevention, conservation, compliance and cleanup.

It is the point of contact, technical expert and liaison on all environmental matters throughout the station and neighborhood commands. Major responsibilities include planning, programming, budgeting and allocating funds for environmental protection; applying for all federal, state and local permits; developing and administering environmental protection programs; and overseeing installation restoration projects.

The Naval Justice School (NJS) was founded in 1946 at Port Hueneme, California, and moved to Newport, Rhode Island, in 1950. It has additional campuses in Norfolk, Virginia, and San Diego.

The NJS mission is to train all Sea Service (Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard) judge advocates, enlisted paralegals and Department of the Navy (DON) civilian legal professionals to deliver quality legal services, promote justice and enhance Sea Service fleet readiness. In addition to providing accession and continuing legal education for all Sea Services legal professionals, active and reserve, it also trains Sea Service commanders, legal officers, senior enlisted and others in the proper administration of military law. Staffed with officer and enlisted personnel from each of the Sea Services and supported by civilian administrative personnel, NJS offers more than 55 courses of instruction in Newport every year and assists multiple Naval Station Newport commands by providing lectures and training support.

NAVAL LEADERSHIP AND ETHICS CENTER (NLEC)

Facebook: www.facebook.com/nlecnewport

NLEC develops ethical, responsible and accountable command leaders through interactive coursework. In addition to programs specifically designed for the command triad, NLEC offers a command spouse leadership course and general professional development for all levels of fleet leadership. NLEC annually provides seminar-style facilitated courses to support over 130,000 Navy personnel around the fleet.

Command courses: The prospective commanding officer course is a two-week, in-resident, core curriculum immersing prospective leaders in an intense course of study, focused on reinforcing fundamental tenets of naval leadership and improving the decision-making foundation of officers who will assume their first command. Prospective major commanders participate in a one-week seminar that builds on these principles. The prospective executive officers course addresses the application of leadership principles in carrying out the duties and responsibilities of the second-in-command. The command master chief and chief of the boat course is a capstone program designed to further develop the unique perspective and special skills needed to serve as a vital member of the command's leadership triad. The combined courses convene 14 times each year, and students share learning experiences in topics that include lectures, case studies, self-awareness coaching, personality assessment, and subjects relevant to the command leadership team and command support team members. Spouses of prospective commanding officers and command master chiefs participate in a one-week, seminar-style course to learn ways to support the command through a team-building approach that includes recognizing, inspiring and educating spouses to realize the positive impact they can have on the morale and success of the command.

Intermediate Leadership Course: The intermediate leadership course is a one-week, in-resident, seminar-style course that prepares intermediate officers heading to department head positions in self-awareness, ethics, critical reflection and leadership effectiveness. Reserve intermediate officers heading to department head positions and Reserve senior officers participate in a one-weekend, nonresident professional development seminar that promotes professional growth in ethics, self-awareness, leader development and decision-making.

Division Officer Leadership Course: This is a one-week course that prepares and provides junior officers with strategies for building and maintaining an effective work climate that focuses on the pillars of character growth, to include self-awareness, the Profession of Arms, ethical decision-making and application through practice using case studies.

Enlisted leader development continuum: ELD is a three-tier curriculum that includes foundational, intermediate and advanced leader development. E-3 to E-6 enlisted personnel participate in a three- to four-day, nonresident course that closely links to the Navy core values to prepare the Sailor for increasing leadership responsibilities in support of the CNO's Navy leader development framework.

Fleet engagement teams: NLEC supports fleet request for leader development. Mobile training teams provide an independent assessment of command climate challenges and provide recommendations for self-improvement.

NAVAL UNDERSEA WARFARE CENTER (NUWC)

Phone: 401-832-4969

Website: www.navsea.navy.mil/Home/Warfare-Centers

The Naval Undersea Warfare Center was established Jan. 2, 1992, and is the Navy's full-spectrum research, development, test and evaluation, engineering and fleet support center for submarines, autonomous underwater systems, and offensive and defensive weapons systems associated with undersea warfare. There are two major divisions of the warfare center: Division Newport and Division Keyport, in Keyport, Washington. The command employs approximately 4,600 civilian and military personnel worldwide and has a budget of nearly $2 billion. NUWC consists of more than 1,600 acres of government-owned or leased property and 7.8 million square feet of building space. In addition to its two main sites at Newport and Keyport, NUWC includes subordinate command Naval Sea Logistics Center at Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, and several operating sites across North America, from Andros Island, Bahamas, to Dresden, New York, and from San Diego to Nanoose Bay, British Columbia.

Facebook: www.facebook.com/NUWCNewport

NUWC Division Newport is one of the two divisions of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center. The command was established Jan. 2, 1992, by consolidation of the Naval Underwater Systems Center; Trident Command and Control Systems Maintenance Activity, Newport; and Naval Sea Combat Systems Engineering Station, Norfolk, Virginia.

NUWC Division Newport detachments include the Atlantic Undersea Test and Evaluation Center facilities at Andros Island, Bahamas, and West Palm Beach, Florida. Remote test facilities are at Dresden, New York; Leesburg, Florida; and East Lyme, Connecticut.

In carrying out its mission, NUWC Division Newport provides research; development; test and evaluation; engineering; analysis and assessment; and fleet support capabilities for submarines, autonomous underwater systems, and offensive and defensive undersea weapon systems; and is a steward of existing and emerging technologies in support of undersea warfare.

NUWC Division Newport is responsible, start to finish, for all aspects of systems under its charter and is engaged in efforts ranging from participation in fundamental research to the support of evolving operational capabilities in the U.S. Navy fleet. The major thrust of NUWC Division Newport's activities is applied research and system development.

NUWC Division Newport has an uninterrupted lineage dating to 1869 and the establishment of the Naval Torpedo Station on Goat Island, Newport — the Navy's earliest dedicated research facility. Today, the command is a world-recognized leader for research in submarine combat control and acoustics systems, imaging and communications systems, submarine weapon and launcher systems, submarine and surface ship sonar systems, undersea ranges and test programs.

Established in 1884, the U.S. Naval War College is the oldest institution of its kind in the world. More than 50,000 students have graduated since its first class of nine students in 1885, and about 300 of today's active-duty admirals and generals and senior executive service leaders are alumni.

Navy Department General Order No. 325, dated Oct. 6, 1884, stated in part, "A college is hereby established for an advanced course of professional study for naval officers." In a matter of months after the order was released, NWC's founding president, Commodore Stephen B. Luce, welcomed the first class of nine students.

From this humble beginning the college has grown and transformed into the nation's premier professional military education institution, now educating more than 40,000 students annually with resident and nonresident curricula tailored to the educational needs of Sailors from the ranks of E-1 to O-8.

As a fully accredited graduate institution, students completing the rigorous College of Naval Warfare and College of Naval Command and Staff resident curricula earn a Master of Arts degree and joint professional military education credit. Reflecting the college's Navywide reach, fleet seminar students enrolled in a network of 20 satellite campuses across the country can earn the Master of Arts degree as well. The college also has a robust international engagement mission with approximately 100 international officers graduating yearly.

The college's professional military education programs prepare leaders for the challenges of operational and strategic level leadership as Established in 1974, Navy Band Northeast is based at NS Newport and is one of 11 official U.S. Navy bands worldwide, providing musical support for military ceremonies, recruiting, morale and retention programs, and community relations. The band is a group of 35 professional Navy musicians who support more than 300 engagements annually throughout an 11-state area of responsibility. The band performs regularly for high-ranking military and civilian dignitaries and recruiting, public outreach and awareness efforts. It also partners with education programs throughout the northeastern United States.

The primary components of Navy Band Northeast are marching and ceremonial bands; the Navy Band Northeast Pops Ensemble; the popular music group, Rhode Island Sound; the brass quintet, Top Brass; and the woodwind trio, Crosswinds. Other units consist of various smaller protocol ensembles: a solo pianist; a solo guitarist; a jazz combo, a solo vocalist and a solo guitarist. All ensembles perform a wide range of music from patriotic, classical, contemporary, big band swing, country and the latest Top 40 hits.

For upcoming events, visit the schedule page of their website.

decision-makers and problem-solvers over the remainder of their careers. Approximately 400 students graduate from the maritime staff operators course and nearly 80 U.S. and international flag and general officers graduate from the flag course each year.

Just as NWC's educational programs have expanded in depth and reach, so have the research and analysis efforts conducted by NWC's Center for Naval Warfare Studies. Through war games, conferences, workshops and publications, NWC's research arm provides direct curriculum support to educational programs and focused, task-driven analysis for fleet customers and government agencies across the national security spectrum.

The main priority of the college will always be to educate and develop future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy-makers.

Our other missions in support of educating and developing future leaders include helping to define the future Navy and its roles and missions, supporting combat readiness, strengthening global maritime partnerships, promoting ethics and leadership throughout the force, contributing knowledge to shape effective decisions through Maritime History Center expertise, and providing expertise and advice to the international legal community through the Stockton Center for the Study of International Law.

To accomplish all these missions, the college must preserve a current and relevant curriculum, a world-class faculty and staff, and the best and brightest joint student body educated both during their time at the college and through a robust alumni program of lifelong learning afterward.

The college has often been called the Navy's "home of thought," and as such, it constitutes a unique national asset unmatched anywhere else in the world. Through education, research, gaming and training, the college helps shape and support the intellectual leaders of tomorrow's Navy and its joint and combined service partners.

The Navy Supply Corps School officially opened its doors in January 2011 at its current location in Newport. The building is named after Vice Adm. Kenneth R. Wheeler, the 31st Chief of Supply Corps and former World War II prisoner of war. The Wheeler Center is a 58,000-square-foot, state-of-the-art facility with 11 electronic classrooms, two video tele-training rooms, a multipurpose room that can be separated into three classrooms and nine breakout discussion rooms. Additionally, there is a mock ship's store, barbershop, shipboard galley, storeroom, laundry and a Navy Cash laboratory used to introduce students to what they might expect during their first tour as division officers afloat.

The mission of the Navy Supply Corps School is to develop disciplined, ethically-focused and resourceful fleet-ready leaders who strengthen the Navy's reputation as preeminent Naval logisticians and mission enablers. Courses offered include: Basic Qualification Course, Basic Qualification Course Navy Reserves, Supply Officer Department Head Course, Senior Supply Officer Department Head Course, Joint Aviation Supply and Maintenance Material Management, Introduction to Expeditionary Logistics, Transportation of Hazardous Material, Relational Supply Force Level Course and Reserve Supply Management Advanced Refresher Training. The school also partners with international military and civilian management programs to offer the International Officer Supply Course, International Logistics Executive Advanced Development, and Advanced Management Program.

Phone: 401-841-1585

Website: www.public.navy.mil/netc/nstc/otcn/index.aspx

Facebook: www.facebook.com/otcNewport

Officer Training Command Newport was established as a separate command from NS Newport on Oct. 1, 1998. OTCN's mission is to develop civilians, enlisted and newly commissioned officers morally, mentally and physically and imbue them with the highest ideals of honor, courage and commitment to prepare graduates for service in the fleet as naval officers. The command delivers five officer accession and indoctrination programs and manages three Navy technical training facilities.

Officer Candidate School

Officer Candidate School is a 12-week course designed to give officer candidates desiring a commission in the unrestricted line, restricted line or Staff Corps (Supply Corps and Civil Engineering Corps only) a working knowledge of the Navy and Marine Corps (afloat and ashore) and to prepare them to assume the responsibilities of naval officers upon graduation. OCS is a mentally demanding and physically challenging program. Academic subjects include engineering, military indoctrination, naval history, navigation, seamanship, damage control, naval leadership, administration, military law, naval warfare and several special emphasis programs. Military training includes rapid memorization of general military knowledge, personnel inspections and close-order drill. The rigorous physical training program consists of running, augmented by calisthenics, strength training and swimming, and begins almost immediately upon arrival.

Seaman-to-Admiral 21

The Seaman-to-Admiral 21 program provides an opportunity for select enlisted men and women to become commissioned officers. At OTCN, STA-21 participants complete a nine-week course called NSI (Naval Science Institute). NSI provides Sailors instruction in the fundamental Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps core courses: introduction to naval science, sea power, navigation I and II, engineering and weapons. Following successful completion of NSI, these Sailors will enroll in an NROTC-affiliated college or university where they must complete a college degree within three years.

Officer Development School

Officer Development School is a five-week program designed to introduce newly commissioned nuclear power instructor and engineers, and Medical Corps, Nurse Corps, Medical Service Corps, Judge Advocate General Corps and Dental Corps officers to their new responsibilities as naval officers. The curriculum includes courses covering naval indoctrination, military law, naval correspondence and administration, career development, physical fitness, drill and apprentice-level leadership skills, and fulfilling the requirement for the division officer capstone course.

Limited Duty Officers and Chief Warrant Officers School

Limited Duty Officers and Chief Warrant Officers School is a four-week course designed to help new limited duty and chief warrant officers transition from their previous enlisted ranks to their position as naval officers. The curriculum includes courses covering navigation and seamanship, military law, naval correspondence and administration, career development, critical thinking and division officer leadership.

Direct Commission Officer Indoctrination Course

The Direct Commission Officer Indoctrination Course is a two-week course designed to introduce newly commissioned Navy Reserve officers to their responsibilities as naval officers. The course is intense and facilitates the new officers' introduction to military structure, the rich history of Navy traditions and customs, the military legal system and military etiquette. This course is completed by new Reserve officers during their two-week annual training.

Technical Training Facilities

There are three technical training facilities run by OTCN. The wet trainer, better known as the "buttercup," is used to teach damage control methods on a sinking vessel. The Fire Fighting School teaches firefighting skills to OTCN students as well as to fleet and U.S. Coast Guard personnel. The "Michael P. Murphy" combat training pool is used to train and conduct required Navy swim qualifications for new officers.

In 1974, the Commander, Naval Legal Service Command established the first naval legal service office in Newport. In July 1993, Naval Legal Service Office Northeast Detachment Newport was set up as a subordinate activity of NLSO Northeast Groton, under the direction of a commanding officer. In July 1997, the office became Naval Legal Service Office North Central Branch Office Newport, subordinate to NLSO North Central Detachment Groton, under the direction of both an officer in charge in Groton, Connecticut, and ultimately, Commanding Officer, Naval Legal Service Office North Central in Washington, D.C.

In October 2012, the Navy JAG Corps realigned and NLSO North Central Branch Office Newport became Region Legal Service Office Mid-Atlantic Branch Office Newport, a subordinate activity of RLSO Mid-Atlantic Detachment Groton, under the direction of both an officer in charge in Groton and ultimately, Commanding Officer, Region Legal Service Office Mid-Atlantic in Norfolk, Virginia. RLSO Mid-Atlantic Branch Office Newport maintains two separate offices on board NS Newport.

The Legal Assistance Office is in Building 360, and its one officer and one civilian worker provide legal assistance to active-duty personnel and their family members, retirees and their families, and deploying Reservists throughout greater New England. Legal assistance services are available for landlord-tenant issues, consumer protection, domestic relations and family law, immigration, and wills and estate planning. Co-located with the Legal Assistance Office is a remote office for Defense Service Office North, where Sailors, Coast Guardsmen and Marines facing nonjudicial punishment, administrative separation or court martial can remotely consult with attorneys in Groton or Washington, D.C.

1269 Elliot Ave.

Phone: 401-841-4776

Website: <https://www.public.navy.mil/netc/sea/Default.aspx>

Facebook: www.facebook.com/USNSeniorEnlistedAcademy

Established in 1981, the Navy Senior Enlisted Academy (SEA) provides senior enlisted leaders with education and training in communication skills, leadership and management, national security affairs, Navy programs and physical fitness. SEA is the Navy's only professional military education institute for its senior enlisted force.

In 1995, the chief of naval operations established the requirement that all prospective command master chiefs and chiefs of the boat successfully complete this course prior to reporting for their first assignment. Starting in January 2005, SEA seated 65 students per class and convened for six weeks. SEA completed another expansion to the Perry Hall Annex in 2006, increasing the student capacity to 112 per resident class.

In 2015, the Navy announced that for E-8s selected during the March 2016 selection boards and beyond, graduation from a service SEA will be a prerequisite for promotion to E-9. That same year, the Navy SEA moved to a blended solution to afford all E-8s the opportunity to attend the Navy SEA before pinning on E-9.

The SEA offers one course for active-duty military (including FTS Reservists) and selected Reservists. The SEA's course is composed of seven weeks of distance learning followed by three weeks of in-residence education in Newport, Rhode Island. There is one week of administration and travel between the two phases, making the course 11 weeks from start to finish. During the distance-learning phase, students read and write papers and interact with instructors and each other via the Blackboard Learning Management System. Students can expect 12 to 15 hours of academic work each week during the seven-week distance-learning phase. Students must attend the distance-learning phase and in-residence phase concurrently. The two phases cannot be split.

Together, the SEA helps to further develop senior enlisted leaders in their ability to provide ethical decision support for leaders in naval, joint and multinational environments. By providing an understanding of national security, joint force operations and leadership skills with a constant focus on flexibility and mission accomplishment, the SEA prepares today's senior enlisted leaders for tomorrow's global challenges.

Facebook: www.facebook.com/SWOSCOLCOM

The Surface Warfare Officers School Command is the "Center for Excellence" for Surface Warfare where officers and senior enlisted leaders sharpen their leadership, management and professional skills throughout their career. The mission of the Surface Warfare Officers School Command is to ready sea-bound warriors to serve on surface combatants as officers, enlisted engineers and enlisted navigation professionals to fulfill the Navy's mission to maintain global maritime superiority.

History

The Surface Warfare Officers School Command was established by Vice Adm. Charles Weakley on July 1, 1961 as Naval Destroyer School to teach Surface Warfare Officers engineering, navigation and ship handling and later, combat systems. The first group of students to complete training at the new Destroyer School — Department Head Class 001 — graduated on July 7, 1962. A new schoolhouse facility, Weakley Hall, the current command headquarters and named after the school's founder, was constructed next to the old engineering school and dedicated on Sept. 14, 1970. The "Destroyer School" was subsequently renamed "Surface Warfare Officers School Command" in 1975 when all Surface Warfare Officer training was consolidated under a single command.

For half a century, the Surface Warfare Officers School Command focused exclusively on training prospective Surface Warfare Officers in the four major competencies of navigation and shiphandling, engineering and maritime warfighting at the Learning Center in Newport.

On Oct. 1, 2011, SWOS's training mission and span of responsibility expanded dramatically when the command merged with the Center for Naval Engineering. In addition to training Surface Warfare Officers, SWOS now has the responsibility for training 70,000 Damage Controlmen, Electrician's Mates, Enginemen, Hull Maintenance Technicians, Gas Turbine Systems Technicians, Machinist's Mates and Machinery Repairmen at 10 geographically dispersed learning sites around the globe. In October 2014, the SWOS mission was further expanded with the addition of training responsibilities for the Quartermaster rating. SWOS currently trains over 75,000 ready sea-bound warriors annually to maintain global maritime superiority.

2nd Brigade, 75th Training Command

Phone: 401-341-2512

The 75th Training Command provides training for commanders and their staffs at battalion and brigade echelons of command. The command conducts pre-deployment training for all Army component forces at home station, maneuver training centers and battle command training centers in support of Army Force Generation, utilizing skilled and professional observer controller and trainers.

Conducting structured and doctrinally correct military decision-making process seminars, command post and mission readiness exercises for active and Reserve component forces, the 75th serves as the Army's premier training command.

Detachment 1, 2nd Battalion, 417th Regiment, 4th Brigade Combat Team, 98th Division (Institutional Training), 108th Training Command
Phone: 401-341-2505

The 108th Training Command's mission is to provide highly professional, trained and ready drill sergeants, instructors, cadre and units to conduct initial military training and leader training to support U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command and the U.S. Army Accessions Command in training, advising and assisting joint, multicomponent and multinational forces. The 108th Training Command is the sole nationwide Reserve command for initial military training, representing half the total basic training capacity of the U.S. Army.

Its goal as the premier U.S. Army Reserve training organization is to furnish both operational and strategic capabilities to the U.S. Army as the force provider of units employed in accordance with Army Force Generation in support of initial military training and, as required, units and Soldiers to train, advise and assist any service, multicomponent, interagency or multinational organization in both CONUS training missions or OCONUS stability operations at any place at any time.

Its success is built on a foundation of shared values and commitment to excellence. It is a customer-driven organization focused on creating value for its customers, partners and stakeholders. It values its employees, families, civilian employers and volunteers and the services they all provide to the organization and the country. It is a learning organization that fosters an environment for innovation, empowerment and development, agile and focused on the future. Its visionary leadership emphasizes innovation within a systems framework for performance excellence.

The 443rd Civil Affairs Battalion, 353rd Civil Affairs Command, U.S. Army Civil Affairs and Psychological Operations Command (Airborne)

Phone: 401-341-2537

The U.S. Army Civil Affairs and Psychological Operations Command (Airborne) mission is to organize, train, equip and resource Army Reserve civil affairs and psychological operations forces for worldwide support to regional combatant commanders and other agencies, as directed.

Its vision is to provide the nation with an expeditionary, campaign-quality civil affairs and military information support operations force, fully mission-capable across the spectrum of military operations.

Civil affairs units help military commanders by working with civil authorities and civilian populations in the commander's area of operations to lessen the impact of military operations on them during peace, contingency operations and declared war. Civil affairs forces support activities of conventional commanders and do so in the Reserve civil affairs as a unique blend of Army, Navy and Air Force personnel.

Ninety-four percent of the Department of Defense's civil affairs forces are found in the Reserve civil affairs ranks — four civil affairs commands, seven subordinate brigades and 28 battalions. They are a prime source of skills necessary to help a nation rebuild following conflict and improve services for its people in times of peace.

Civil affairs units include Soldiers with training and experience in public administration, public safety and health, legal systems, labor management, public welfare, finance and education, civil defense, public works and utilities, public communications and transportation, logistics, food and agricultural services, economics, property control, cultural affairs, civil information and management of dislocated persons.

Civil affairs specialists can quickly and systematically identify critical needs of local citizens in war or disaster. U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Oak is one of 16 sea-going buoy tenders. The first Cutter Oak was one of only two cutters of the Oak Class built in 1921 in New York, measuring 160 feet in length with a 30-foot beam and 875-ton displacement and a draft of 9 feet, 6 inches. The cutter was powered by a 700-horsepower steam engine, which is currently displayed in the Smithsonian Museum of American History. With a crew of five officers and 23 enlisted members, the cutter was responsible for servicing and maintaining the buoys and lighthouses in New York Harbor and along the northeast coast of the United States. The present-day cutter was launched on Jan. 26, 2002, and delivered to the Coast Guard on Oct. 17, 2002. A state-of-the-art cutter, Oak was designed to conduct the widest array of missions of any ship in the Coast Guard fleet. Since being commissioned in March 2003, Oak has conducted nearly every one of the service's missions throughout the southeastern United States and U.S. interests in the Bahamas, Cuba, Haiti, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. During a five-year period of operation, Oak serviced over 750 aids to navigation; interdicted and repatriated over 460 illegal migrants; conducted homeland security operations; boarded and cleared over 75 container ships entering critical military ports; supported the combined joint task force in Haiti; repaired navigation aids and cleared waterways impacted by hurricanes Isabel, Katrina, Charley, Jeanne and Frances, trained with the spilled oil recovery system; and conducted several search-and-rescue missions. Oak relocated to NS Newport in winter 2017.

Naval War College Museum blog: <http://naulwarcollegemuseum.blogspot.com>

On Sept. 20, 1884, Rear Adm. Stephen B. Luce, U.S. Navy, was relieved as Commander, North Atlantic Squadron and was rowed from the flagship USS Tennessee anchored off Newport to Coasters Harbor Island, 2 miles north of the center of Newport. Once on the island, as the Army and Navy Journal reported, Luce proceeded to a large stone building built in 1819, the former Newport Asylum for the Poor, climbed its rickety steps, and as he put his hand on the front door, solemnly declared to his few companions and the empty grounds, "Know all men by these presents, and in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, I christen this building the War College of the American Navy." Two weeks later, on Oct. 6, 1884, Secretary of the Navy William Chandler issued General Order 325, formally establishing the Naval War College.

Today, the "little poorhouse" is a well-preserved and stately structure, a National Historic Landmark and home to the Naval War College Museum. Named Founders Hall in honor of the founding fathers of the college, it is uniquely suited for its current purpose. In addition to being the original home of the oldest war college in the United States, it is where Capt. Alfred Thayer Mahan, U.S. Navy, the college's president from 1886 through 1889 and 1892 through 1893, first delivered his lectures on sea power. These lectures, first published in 1890 as the epochal "The Influence of Sea Power upon History, 1660-1783," were the first in a series of Mahan's books that marked the beginning of modern naval strategic and historical studies. Today, the Naval War College Museum is one of 10 official U.S. Navy museums. It is operated under the Naval History and Heritage Command, Washington, D.C., in cooperation with the Naval War College.

Collection and Exhibit Themes

The museum's themes are the history of naval warfare, particularly as studied at the college, and the naval heritage of Narragansett Bay — a tale that begins with the nation's colonial roots. Its collection consists of items relating to these subjects that are perceived to be of value to scholarship, and these form the core for exhibits throughout the college and for educational outreach projects. Besides permanent exhibits about the college, the genesis of the Navy in the region and the evolution of permanent naval installations from the late 19th century to the present, the museum features short-term special exhibits relating to the college curriculum and to current naval-related topics. In general, the museum exhibits identify milestones in the evolutionary development of war at sea; explain the significance of the sea as a factor in the formulation and the attainment of national policy objectives; describe the character, educational philosophy and mission of the college; and chronicle the eventful relationship of the U.S. Navy with Narragansett Bay and its people.

Public access to the museum with a personal vehicle is through Gate 1 of NS Newport. For reservations, call 401-841-4052 at least five working days in advance. Reservations and two forms of government-issued identification are necessary to enter the naval station for those without DOD identification. Foreign nationals require two weeks' advance notification. Visitors must stop at the pass office before proceeding to Gate 1.

Facilities for the disabled are available, as is a gift shop operated by the Naval War College Foundation, a 501(c)(3) charitable organization that supports the museum as part of its many activities to buttress the Naval War College. Further information about the museum's exhibits, special events and its naval history book lecture series may be found on the museum's website, on its Facebook page and on the Naval War College Museum blog.

Maintaining current contact information is critical throughout the entire move.

The status of a shipment also can be checked via JPPSO-NE's interactive voice response telephone system 24/7 at 800-235-7776. Additionally, other valuable information such as tracking a POV shipment or locating a scale for a personally procured move can be found on the DOD Household Goods Portal at www.move.mil. Personnel occupying government quarters are advised to review floor plans in advance and ship only those household goods that can be accommodated in the units. It is recommended that those items that cannot be placed within the unit be stored at the point of origin. Entitlements are outlined in Joint Federal Travel Regulations paragraphs U5222 and U5232D. Arrangements must be made at the time of outbound counseling. Permanent long-term storage is only authorized at Newport as an overflow to government quarters. Those living off base will be responsible for their own storage units and storage charges.

The NS Newport Public Affairs Office is the official contact for members of the public, media, and state and local agencies interested in obtaining information about the installation. The office oversees publication of the official NS Newport weekly newsletter and administers the installation Facebook page, Instagram and Twitter accounts and website. The PAO actively coordinates programs aimed at fostering Navy-civic relations and improving the understanding of the community with respect to the Department of Defense, and the Navy in particular. The Newport Navallog, the Navy's oldest continuous publication, serves all area commands and activities. It is published every Thursday and posted both online and on the official Facebook page under the guidance of the public affairs officer. The office also oversees the naval station operational messages posted online during any sort of foul weather or incident that would have an impact on operations.

The Chapel of Hope at NS Newport is a beautiful house of worship nestled in a scenic corner of the base in the midst of "Training Country," adjacent to the Naval Academy Prep School and Officer Training Command Newport facilities. It has been a spiritual sanctuary for thousands of Sailors, officer candidates, students, DOD civilians, families and trainees for many years. Ongoing programs include worship, Bible studies, music ministry and spiritual growth classes. A chaplain is available for counseling in a confidential setting. The office can be contacted during normal working hours. After 4 p.m. or on weekends and holidays, contact the duty chaplain.

SAFETY OFFICE

Building 690

690 Peary St.

Phone: 401-841-2478

Fax: 401-841-1853

The NS Newport Safety Office provides a full-service, comprehensive safety agenda consisting of 38 major occupational safety and health programs. The range of responsibility and support required is vast and covers diverse disciplines such as afloat, waterfront, shore, industrial, recreational, housing and retail.

Unlike any other NS Newport department, the Safety Office is responsible for providing services to outlying naval activities in New York, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts.

The safety professionals utilize an effective, proactive hands-on approach that emphasizes finding solutions that help supervisors take immediate and lasting action to eliminate hazards and potential health and safety problems. This, coupled with a command structure that considers safety synonymous with mission, has resulted in an ongoing superlative safety record, and has fostered an environment for safe work, play and living for Sailors and civilian employees alike.

SCHOOL LIAISON OFFICER (SLO)

1376 Bushnell St. (near NUWC)

Phone: 401-841-7126

Email: pamela.martin@navy.mil

Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday

Do you have school-aged children? Then the school liaison officer is looking for you.

The NS Newport installation school liaison officer serves as the installation subject-matter expert for youth education, transition, K-12 school years and deployment issues. The officer's role includes seven core duties, which include communication (installation, community and school), school transition services, special education system navigation, deployment support, partnerships in education, home school linkage and support, and postsecondary presentation.

If you are a military family with school-age children, moving can be complicated by the unknown factors related to the schools in the area of your new duty station. In order to prepare for a smooth transition, it is essential that you plan ahead and gather the necessary information about the schools your children will be attending during the next academic year before you arrive at your new home.

At NS Newport, Pamela Martin, the school liaison officer, is available to help you navigate the local educational system while undergoing a PCS move. She can also help you prepare for your next move by putting you in contact with the school liaison officer at your new duty station.

Registration information for Newport County schools follows.

Assistance from the community plays a major role in helping the naval station's Security Department. Suspicious activity should be reported to the police dispatcher immediately, and emergencies via 911. Individuals are encouraged to report anything out of the ordinary and may remain anonymous. The naval station's police force is a full-service law enforcement agency that maintains close ties with local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. Federal police officers attend the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center and maintain 24-hour daily patrols of the installation, tenant commands and surrounding federal property. Police patrol officers enforce all laws and regulations, including United States Code, the UCMJ, assimilated Rhode Island law and applicable instructions. They ensure the integrity of installation access points, offer assistance to those in need and proactively serve to detect, deter and defend against terrorist activity. Detectives are on staff

The U.S. Army veterinary clinic at NS Newport is in the rear of the Leisure Bay Coffee Shoppe. The station's veterinary treatment facility is professionally staffed by Army Veterinary Corps personnel with the primary mission of providing complete veterinary care for all government owned animals. Staff understands how important your pet is to you, and with that in mind, offers many types of routine care services for the pets of military families. For availability of services or to schedule an appointment, call the facility. Due to limited manpower and resources, most veterinary emergency cases are best served through a full-service civilian veterinary hospital.

All pets living on post must be registered with the facility upon arrival. On-post housing may limit the number and breed of pets that can live in on-post housing. Contact on-post housing for more information.

Newport county code §6.04.070 states that "the owner of any dog over the age of 6 months shall have such dog vaccinated against rabies." Please check with your local county for compliance with registering your pets and other regulations.

NAVY HOUSING

There are 691 housing units at NS Newport. Housing is in multiple housing complexes within a 7-mile radius of the base.

NS Newport housing is a privatized housing site partnered with Balfour Beatty Communities, which manages and maintains all family housing at NS Newport. Information about Balfour Beatty can be obtained by contacting them at 401-846-8877 or via www.navstanewporthomes.com.

All active-duty military members (with or without family) transferring to the NS Newport area interested in moving into privatized housing should contact the Housing Service Center. To be placed on the waiting list for housing, service members must forward a completed DD Form 1746 (Application for Military Family Housing), the sex offender policy acknowledgment and disclosure form, a copy of their PCS orders and dependency verification (NAVCOMPT 1070/602 or DEERS form, if applicable) via email to Newport\_Housing@navy.mil, via fax to commercial 401-841-7138/DSN 841-7138 or via mail to Housing Service Center, Naval Station Newport, 690 Peary St., Newport, RI 02841. Names will be placed on the waiting list (if applicable) as of the date of detachment from the member's present permanent duty station, or the date of receipt, whichever is later.

Balfour Beatty Communities offers a Single Sailor Program that offers furnished roommate homes for bachelor and geographical bachelor student and staff personnel at a per-person rental rate.

There are 325 student quarters and 426 staff quarters at NS Newport. Student quarters are designed for students attending department head courses at the Surface Warfare Officers School Command and the Naval War College.

Pet Policy

Balfour Beatty Communities has a two-pet policy, to include dogs, cats, birds or fish tanks. Note: Several dog breeds or mixed breeds are not permitted. Please check directly with Balfour Beatty for a current restricted breed list. Exotic pets are also not permitted.

Utility Information

All quarters are equipped with ranges, refrigerators, and washer and dryer hookups and are heated by gas-fired heating systems. The Navy has implemented the Resident Energy Conservation Program for all utility costs, with the exception of telephone and cable television services, which are included in the rental fee. The RECP establishes like type groups of housing and measures the average usage for each group every month. A 10 percent buffer is then added above and below the average to create a normal usage band.

HOUSING

Residents using more than the normal usage band pay for the excess and those using less receive a rebate or credit. For more information, you can contact the Housing Service Center.

For active-duty military with family, the maximum rental rate is equal to the member's local-with-dependent BAH. (Note: Ask about any current rent specials.) For members without family, the rental rate is set at a fair market rate that can be obtained by contacting the Housing Service Center.

Information on average waiting times, frequently asked questions, photos and floor plans of the housing is available at the Navy Housing Service Center site at www.cnic.navy.mil/regions/cnrma/installations/ns\_newport/ffr/housing\_and\_lodging.html.

Note: Service members are required to contact the Housing Service Center within 10 days of their arrival to confirm their application or their name will be removed from the waiting list.

For further information, call 401-841-2232, DSN 841-2232 or toll free 800-217-0875.

PRIVATE HOUSING OFF BASE

The NS Newport Housing Service Center is ready to assist service members with finding off-base housing in the local community. Members are required to report to the Housing Service Center, Building 690, before committing to private housing off base. Center staff is available to review lease agreements as well as assist with information on security deposits, check-in and checkout inspections, military clauses, group sharing and more. Additionally, the center's staff will help ensure that all personnel receive fair and equal opportunity for housing in the community.

Housing information is available at www.navstaneuporthomes.com

The center uses www.HOMES.mil, a DOD-sponsored program for all off-base referrals. This online database contains a large selection of unfurnished and furnished properties ranging in price from approximately $800 to $3,000 per month, plus utilities, depending on size, location and amenities. The properties listed in the database are within a one-hour commute of NS Newport and are easily accessible. Information on how to access this program can be obtained by contacting the Housing Service Center.

Due to Newport's reputation as a famous tourist area, short-term furnished rentals are expensive and scarce during the summer months.

NS Newport no longer operates a mobile home park. Additionally, community mobile home lots are extremely difficult to obtain within the commuting area. Subsidized housing complexes are available within the commuting area. The HSC staff is available to assist you with your search for subsidized housing.

Hours: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. Closed Monday through Friday.

The Auto Skills Center has three work bays, two oil change lifts and one frame lift (small cars only) available for patron use. The center is a self-service facility. Available equipment for the do-it-yourself patron includes a battery charger and hand tools. There is one indoor, do-it-yourself car wash bay that is open 24/7 and four outdoor vacuums available for a nominal fee.

Child and Youth Programs

1376 Bushnell St. (near NUWC)

Phone: 401-841-4562/2883

The NS Newport Child and Youth Programs provide quality and experienced child care in the Child Development Center and Child Development Homes. The CDC provides care for children 6 weeks to 5 years old. CDH programs are provided for children 6 weeks to 12 years old.

Before and after-school care and summer camp are offered for school-aged children 5 (attending kindergarten) through 12 years of age. For the summer camp, children must have completed kindergarten.

Pre-teen and teen programs for children ages 9 to 18 are offered outside of normal business hours.

All Child and Youth Programs offer full-time spaces. Hourly care is offered when space is available for $4 per hour.

Child Development Center

Hours: 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday

The CDC program is led by qualified professionals in early childhood education whose major goal is to promote a child's growth and development in a nurturing environment through meaningful learning experiences. The curriculum is developmentally appropriate, keeping in mind the specific needs of each individual child. Activities are planned; however, these plans are flexible depending on the daily interests and needs of the children. Children are invited and encouraged to participate in individual and group activities designed to promote social, emotional, intellectual (cognitive) and physical development.

Caregivers administer the curriculum and guide the children's behavior.

The ratio of staff to children is always sufficient to maintain constant supervision and implement a developmentally appropriate program. Some examples of skills the CDC fosters are:

- Problem-solving skills.
- Socialization skills.
- Self-help skills.
- Health and safety.
- Self-expression and creativity.
- Independence.
- Communication and language skills.
- Large and small motor skills.

Child Development Homes

Hours: Set individually by providers

The CDH program is an alternative to center-based care and is often preferred by families because of the small group sizes, the home-like atmosphere and the flexible hours of operation that the center often cannot accommodate. CDHs provide a warm, family setting in which children can participate in developmentally appropriate learning activities, as well as home life experiences. The children are able to build a trusting relationship with a provider who will foster their curiosity and creativity, provide guidance and give them the hugs they need.

CDH providers must be Navy certified and reside in Balfour Beatty Housing. The certification process is provided through Child and Youth Programs and consists of basic first aid, CPR, child abuse prevention, child development, activity planning, nutrition, business practices and parent-customer relations. In addition to the provider's certification, they receive monthly unannounced home inspections by the Child and Youth Programs director or CDH monitor and must successfully complete all required background screenings. Providers are also required to complete monthly trainings to ensure they provide the best possible care to children.

GOTickets

Phone: 401-841-2094

MWR offers discount tickets to local attractions available for purchase at Leisure Bay Coffee Shoppe, Seaview Lanes Bowling Center and the John H. Chafee Fitness Center. Check the GOTickets brochure at various MWR facilities to see available ticket options, including Disney, Universal, LEGOLAND and more. These pink forms are available at a kiosk at all MWR facilities (Officers' Club, Seaview Lanes Bowling Center, Child Development Center, School Age Care, Community Recreation Center, Leisure Bay Coffee Shoppe and the John H. Chafee Fitness Center). Fill out the pink form and show ID, and the MWR representative will take your form and give it to a GOTickets representative. There is a 48-hour turnover from the time the GOTickets representative receives the pink form and contacts you.

The purpose of this form is for the MWR employee to verify your ID, which is critical because it tells them what discount promotions are available based on your military status. Once the form is completed, it is routed back to GOTickets and they are able to contact you, answer any questions and process the sale. Purchased tickets are then available for pick up at Seaview Lanes Bowling Center, or they can be sent overnight via FedEx for a $15 fee.

federal holidays. The kitchen closes an hour before closing time. During the summer, hours are extended and Topsides moves to the deck.

Conveniently located just inside Gate 1, the Newport Officers' Club is one of the Navy's premier clubs. It sits on the rocky shoreline of Narragansett Bay with sweeping views of the Newport Bridge, Jamestown and the surrounding islands.

The O'Club offers quality, excellence and value for every catered event, as well as a casual dining facility. The grand ballroom is the perfect setting for events such as weddings, dining in, dinner dances, luncheons and meetings. The grand ballroom is fitted with three drop-down screens, built-in LCD projectors and complete audio hookups.

Enjoy the all-hands casual dining experience for lunch, either on the south deck, weather permitting during the summer, or in the Topsides restaurant. The south deck sits right on the water and offers a full-size, sit-down bar with a glorious view of Narragansett Bay. Cafe-style seating is also available. Daily lunch and dinner specials are available Monday through Friday.

Picnic and Recreation Areas and Sports Fields

Bishop's Rock is near the base chapel and Kay Hall (Building 1801). The area may be reserved for picnics from 11 a.m. to dusk, Memorial Day weekend through September. Reservations are taken at the John H. Chafee Fitness Center Pool, at 401-841-6628. Call for the current per-day rental cost.

Carr Point picnic and recreation area is north of Pier Two on Burma Road in Portsmouth. Three picnic areas with pavilions, barbecue pits, two softball fields, a sand volleyball court, horse-shoe pits and port-a-potty facilities are available. Reservations are taken at the John H. Chafee Fitness Center Pool at 401-841-6628.

Football, soccer and softball fields, Carr Point Fields: Intramural sports programs have first priority on these fields. Fields may be reserved by calling the John H. Chafee Fitness Center at 401-841-7355.

Tennis courts: Four Har-Tru courts, near Gate 1, are available on a first-come, first-served basis unless otherwise reserved from Memorial Day to Labor Day, weather permitting. Users of these courts are asked to sweep or rake after play. Courts are maintained by the John H. Chafee Fitness Center at 401-841-2512.

Recreational vehicle sites are available May through October at Carr Point. Site rentals include water and electricity. Sites may be reserved by calling the John H. Chafee Fitness Center at 401-841-3283.

USER GUIDE

USER GUIDE, OPERATORS MANUAL, DESK REFERENCE, DO'S & DON'TS, ETC.

Military installations have their own sets of rules and regulations that must be followed in order to keep everyone safe, informed and secure.

This section of our annual directory and guide is for personnel who come to the installation for the day or for the year. The following pages include information on making the most of your stay aboard the base — from rules of the road and access issues, to how to make reservations for a function on Bishop's Rock picnic area. This is your guide.

Hold onto this directory and we will update it again next year, as we are sure that many things will continue to change here at Naval Station Newport, the Navy's Center of Excellence for officer and senior enlisted education and training.

Thank you,

GETTING ON

Gate Hours*

Gate 1: NS Newport Coaster Harbor Island is open 24/7.

Gate 2: NS Newport Coddington Point (at the end of Third Street extension) is open 6:30 to 8:30 a.m. Monday through Friday in support of the morning rush hour and anytime Gate 1 is closed for operational reasons.

Gate 7: Naval Health Clinic New England (off Third Street) is open 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 6 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Gate 17: NS Newport Coddington Cove is open 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. It is closed weekends and holidays.

Gate 23: Naval Undersea Warfare Center (Pier Access Road) is open 24/7.

Gate 32: Naval Undersea Warfare Center (Defense Highway) is open 6:15 to 9 a.m. and 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

* Note: Gate hours are subject to change during times of increased force protection measures or for operational reasons.

Access on Board NS Newport

Access control procedures are governed by DOD DTM 09-012, CNICINST 5530.14 (series), COMNAVREGMIDLANTINST 5530.14 (series) and local policy. The Defense Biometrics Identification System, known as DBIDS, is utilized for screening access credentials, badging and pass issuance. Only individuals with a valid DOD-issued identification card or other authorized credentials are allowed unescorted access to NS Newport. Nonaffiliated personnel must be supervised by an authorized escort for the duration of their presence on the installation or be vetted by Pass and ID at least five business days prior to their arrival. Contractors who require access to fulfill their work requirements should be sponsored by the DON Contracting Office and also require vetting by Pass and ID for clearance and DBIDS credentials and pass issuance. Two forms of approved photo identification are required by Pass and ID for identity proofing and vetting.

GETTING IN

Can I use that NS Newport Facility?

Not all ID cards grant access to all NS Newport properties.

There are many great benefits to working and having access to NS Newport, but sometimes there is confusion about who is entitled to use which facilities.

NS Newport is open to all individuals officially issued DOD identification cards, but not all individuals are entitled to use all facilities. The following is a list of the types of ID cards issued and what privileges are permitted.

Active duty common access card: Issued to active-duty members and Reservists (drilling). This card grants access privileges to Naval Health Clinic New England medical, commissary, Navy Exchange and all MWR department facilities. These personnel are also entitled to use the Ney Hall galley (only active-duty military and DOD civilians on orders are entitled to eat at the galley).

DD Form 2 ACT (green card): Issued to inactive Ready Reserves personnel. Grants access to the commissary, NEX and all MWR facilities.

DD Form 1173-1 (red card): Issued to Reserve dependents. Grants access to the commissary, NEX and all MWR facilities.

DD Form 1173 (tan card): Issued to active-duty and active-duty Reserve dependents. Grants access to medical, commissary, NEX and all MWR facilities.

DD Form 2RET (blue and tan card): Issued to all retired military members. Grants access to medical, commissary, NEX and all MWR facilities.

DOD civilian employee ID card: Issued to DOD civilian employees. Grants access to all MWR facilities. DOD civilians are not entitled to use the commissary, NEX or Ney Hall Galley (unless on official orders to the base).

DOD contractor ID card: Similar in appearance to the DOD civilian ID card but with a green stripe. Contractors are entitled to use all Category B and C facilities only (Auto Skills Center, bowling center, Harbor Island Conference Center, Leisure Bay Office, Officers' Club, Outdoor Recreation and Rental, and tennis courts). Contractors are not authorized to use the fitness facilities or the NS Newport marina and sailing center.

DOD civilian retired ID card: Similar in appearance to the DOD civilian ID card but does not include a security chip. This card entitles the holder access to the base and the MWR Category B and C facilities only (Auto Skills Center, bowling center, Harbor Island Conference Center, Leisure Bay, Officers' Club, Outdoor Recreation and Rental, marina and tennis courts). DOD retirees are not authorized to use the facilities in the John H. Chafee Fitness Center.

DOD civilian retirees will be issued an SF50 documenting their retirement, which is necessary for them to be issued this ID card.

Having trouble with your ID card at the gates? The technology used in the scanners has changed over the years. If your ID card is 10 years old or more, you may have to get one reissued at the ID office (Building 690) to be able to sync with today's security technology.

GETTING AROUND

Stay out of Traffic Court!

Each month on board NS Newport a traffic court is convened at the Region Legal Service Office. Did you know that since you are on federal property and under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Navy you could have your driving privileges revoked for operating a vehicle aboard the naval station if you violate traffic rules?

Naval Station Traffic Court convenes monthly with mandatory appearances by individuals, military and civilian (active-duty personnel, retired personnel and family members), scheduled to appear before the judge for violations ranging from using handheld cellphones while driving (guilty — 6 points); failure to stop at stop signs and no proof of insurance (guilty — 4 points); and speeding (guilty — 4 points) to name a few of the more common infractions.

What would your commute look like if you had to leave your vehicle parked at Building 80 or at the Pass and ID lot? Think about it. If you amass a total of 12 points within a 12-month period you will have your driving privileges suspended for a period of not less than six months.

If you drive on the installation without a valid license, registration or insurance, you will receive an indefinite suspension.

The NS Newport Police Department will continue to patrol, both in marked and unmarked cars, in an effort to keep the installation safe. If you operate a vehicle on board the installation you are subject to the rules and regulations governing safe vehicle operation.

The following traffic offenses are enforced under 32 C.F.R. Part § 210.3(d), via the United States District Court Violation Notice (DD Form 1805) and subject to monetary fine or appearance before the U.S. District Court magistrate for the district of Rhode Island: Conditions requiring reduced speed, handicapped parking offenses, obedience to devices, obedience to stop signs and places where parking or stopping prohibited.

For more information on penalties go to NAVSTANPTINST 5100.1 (series) or check with the NS Newport Safety Office or Police Department. Drive safe and don't be one of the few that puts the rest of us in danger. Stay out of court.

Attention Boaters and Lobster Fishermen

Restricted areas within Narragansett Bay: Restricted areas and danger zones surrounding NS Newport properties are defined in 33 CFR § 334.80, § 334.81, § 334.82. The Naval Undersea Warfare Center has an operational test range off the eastern coast of Gould Island that prohibits anchoring, dragging lines or dropping lobster pots.

NS Newport also has restrictions on activities within the areas off the piers and surrounding Coasters Harbor Island — note current NOAA charts and refer to NAVSTANPTINST 5090.28A restricted areas in navigable waters abutting NS Newport.

The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act exempts active-duty Sailors stationed in Rhode Island from the motor vehicle excise tax.

Motor Vehicle Rules and Regulations (Excessive Speed, Cellphone Use and Formation Protocol)

DOD 5525.4 Enforcement of State Traffic Laws on DOD Installations — main points follow:

All persons on a military installation shall comply with locally established vehicular and pedestrian traffic rules and regulations.

All persons on a military installation shall comply with the vehicular and pedestrian traffic laws of the state in which the installation is located.

NAVSTANPTINST 5100.1H Traffic Safety Regulations and Enforcement, dated April 11, 2017

Operation Requirements

All drivers must possess, while operating a motor vehicle, produce and surrender upon request of law enforcement or security personnel, the following documents:

- Valid motor vehicle registration.

- Valid driver's license.
- Military or U.S. government identification.
- Evidence of valid liability insurance.
- Valid motor vehicle inspection certificate, if applicable.
- Any other applicable documents (commercial vehicle forms, hazardous material documents, delivery information, etc.).

Speed Restrictions

- 20 mph within NS Newport, unless posted otherwise.
- 15 mph in Training Country (Coddington Point).
- 20 mph in the Naval Undersea Warfare Center, Division Newport complex.
- 10 mph when passing a marching formation.
- 15 mph in all housing areas.
- 15 mph in all parking lots.
- 10 mph proceeding in or out of installation gates.

Cellphone Use

Using a cellphone or similar electronic devices while operating a motor vehicle on base is prohibited. This includes Bluetooth devices, smartphones, iPads, texting, etc.

Factory-installed OEM hands-free options for vehicles are exempt (all phone controls through steering wheel or dash controls).

Parking

Parking is only permitted in clearly delineated parking spaces and areas. Parking unregistered, junked or abandoned vehicles, or uncoupled boats and trailers on base is prohibited unless specifically authorized by the NS Newport commanding officer or within the MWR sales or storage lots.

Proper Protocol during the Playing of "Colors" on Military Installations

Individuals driving on the naval station should stop their vehicles upon hearing the first notes of morning or evening colors. Individuals who are not in vehicles but outdoors and hear the notes being played should stop and face the music or the nearest flagpole and render the appropriate honors. This time-honored courtesy to our national ensign is one of the privileges of serving and working on a federal installation and should be followed by all individuals who do so.

Per U.S. Navy Regulations, Chapter 12, the ceremonial hoisting and lowering of the national ensign at 8 a.m. and sunset at a naval command ashore or aboard a ship of the Navy not underway shall be known as morning and evening colors, respectively. "Attention" shall be sounded, followed by the playing of the national anthem by the band (or on NS Newport, a loud speaker system mounted on buildings throughout the installation). At morning colors, the ensign shall be started up at the beginning of the music and hoisted smartly to the peak or truck. At evening colors, the ensign shall be started from the peak or truck at the beginning of the music and the lowering so regulated as to be completed at the last note. At the completion of the music, "carry on" shall be sounded. During colors, vehicles within sight or hearing of the ceremony shall be stopped. Persons riding in such vehicles shall remain seated at attention.

NAVSTANPTINST 5100.1H Traffic Safety, Regulations and Enforcement

Bicycles

- Bicycles shall not be ridden double unless they are designed and equipped to carry more than one person (i.e., a bicycle built for two or one equipped with an approved child or infant seat).
- Bicycle riders must obey all applicable traffic laws, rules and regulations and always yield to pedestrians.
- Bicycles are not permitted on jogging trails or sidewalks.
- Portable headphones, earphones, cellular hands-free devices, iPods or other listening devices that impair recognition of emergency signals, alarms, announcements and the approach of emergency vehicles are prohibited.
- Bicycle riders shall wear brightly colored, reflective clothing between sunset and sunrise.
- A bicycle helmet approved by the Consumer Product Safety Commission or Snell Memorial Foundation must be worn at all times.
- Bicycles ridden between sunset and sunrise must utilize steady burning or blinking lighting devices consisting of a white light on the front visible from a distance of at least 500 feet and a red light on the rear that is visible from a distance of at least 600 feet.
- Children under 12 years of age may operate bicycles in housing areas only.

Jogging

- Joggers shall use jogging trails and sidewalks where provided.
- Joggers can wear headphones while running alongside the roads but not near intersections.
- Jogging on roadways is prohibited during peak traffic periods and at night.
- If a sidewalk or path is not provided, joggers shall stay to the left side of the roadway, in a single file, facing oncoming traffic.
- The only authorized jogging areas after sunset are the NS Newport jogging trail, the Coasters Harbor Island physical readiness test running area, and the Nimitz Field and McCool track running area.
- Light-colored clothing and shirts shall be worn at all times.
- At night, or during periods of reduced visibility, personnel are encouraged to wear brightly colored, fluorescent or other reflective garments when running, jogging, walking or traveling near roadways.
- Joggers shall be cautious of vehicles entering the roadway from cross streets or driveways and yield the right of way to personnel walking.
- Joggers shall not run on the bridge roadway between Coasters Harbor Island and the Coddington Point area (Toner Bridge). All joggers should use the old Wennachasett pedestrian bridge (behind the Newport Chalet).

Motorcycle Registration Information and Basic Riders Class General Information

NAVSTANPTINST 5100.1H Traffic Safety, Regulations and Enforcement

Registration

- You must possess a valid registration from one of the 50 states, District of Columbia or U.S. territories and maintain the appropriate level of insurance coverage.
- Motorcycles are governed by the same access control requirements as all other motor vehicles.

License

- You must possess a valid motorcycle license.

Motorcycle Safety Course

- Information concerning applicability, enrollment and training requirements are available by contacting the NS Newport Safety Office at 401-841-2478.

Safety Equipment

Head protection: A helmet meeting DOT, Snell Memorial Foundation certification or host nation certification shall be worn and properly fastened under the chin. Fake or novelty helmets are prohibited. Note: Navy regulations require active-duty personnel always wear helmets while operating motorcycles — even in states where the operator is allowed the option of going without.

Eye protection: Protective eye devices designed for motorcycle operators (impact- or shatter-resistant safety glasses, goggles, wrap-around glasses sealing the eye or a face shield properly attached to the helmet) shall be properly worn. A windshield or standard sunglasses or standard eyewear alone are not proper eye protection.

Foot protection: Sturdy, over-the-ankle footwear that affords protection for the feet and ankles shall be worn.

Protective clothing: Riders and passengers shall wear a long-sleeve shirt or jacket, long trousers and full-fingered gloves or mittens designed for use on a motorcycle. Motorcycle jackets constructed of abrasion resistant materials, such as leather, Kevlar or Cordura, and containing impact-absorbing padding are highly recommended. To enhance the ability of other vehicle operators to see and avoid motorcyclists, outer garments constructed of brightly colored and reflective materials are highly recommended during daylight hours. Reflective outer garments or vest shall be worn during nighttime hours.

GETTING IT DONE

School Liaison Officer and Services

Office: Building 1376

Phone: 401-841-7126

Email: pamela.martin@navy.mil

Hours: 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Special hours are available by appointment.

Do you have school-aged children? Then, the school liaison officer is looking for you.

Do you have school-aged children? Then, the school liaison officer is looking for you.

The NS Newport installation school liaison officer serves as the installation subject-matter expert for youth education, transition, kindergarten through grade 12 and deployment issues. The school liaison officer's role includes seven core duties, which include communication (installation, community and school), school transition services, special education system navigation, deployment support, partnerships in education, home school linkage and support, and postsecondary presentation.

If you are a military family with school-age children, moving can be complicated by the unknown factors related to the schools in the area of your new duty station. In order to prepare for a smooth transition, it is essential that you plan ahead and gather the necessary information about the schools your children will be attending during the next academic year before you arrive at your new home.

At NS Newport, Pamela Martin, the SLO, is available to help you navigate the local educational system as you PCS in and can help you prepare for your next move by putting you in contact with the SLO at your new duty station.

Registration information for Newport County schools follows.

Newport Public Schools: Registration is by appointment only. For elementary children (grades K-4), call 401-847-2100, ext. 279. For middle school students in fifth to eighth grade, call the Thompson Middle School Guidance Department at 401-847-1493. For high school students in ninth to 12th grade, call the Rogers High School Guidance Department at 401-847-6235. Go to www.npsri.net to book an appointment and access the registration forms.

Middletown Public Schools: Registration is by appointment only. For kindergarten to 12th grade registration, call 401-849-2122, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Go to www.mpsri.net/page.cfm?p=983 to access registration forms and procedures.

Portsmouth Public Schools: Go to www.portsmouthschoolsri.org or call 401-683-1039 for registration information.

Jamestown Public Schools: Registration is a two-step process. Step 1 may be done in advance online. Go to <https://jsd-ri.schoolloop.com> for instructions.

Tiverton Public Schools: Registration is by appointment only. Call 401-624-8475, option 5 to schedule an appointment. Go to www.tivertonschools.org to download the registration forms. Select the Central Administration tab and then click on Student Registration in the drop-down menu.

Little Compton Public Schools: Call 401-635-2351 or stop by Monday through Friday at 28 Commons, Little Compton, RI 02837. Registration packets are available online at www.lcsd.k12.ri.us/domain/42.

Rental Lease Review — Soldier and Sailor Civil Relief Act

The Housing Office in Building 690 is available to review your off-base (non-PPV) rental lease before you sign it. Rhode Island law now exempts military members from a month rent penalty in their lease contracts if they receive orders for deployment or PSC before the end of the lease period.

NS Newport Housing can verify if you are adequately covered and if not, can assist you with having your landlord include the military clause in your rental agreement. Do yourself a favor and take the time before you sign. Call 401-841-4545 or 401-841-2232 for more information.

Post Office (U.S. Post Office)

The U.S. Post Office on NS Newport is open 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. It is closed Sunday. Postal boxes are available to military personnel, their family members and civilian personnel who work on the base. These boxes are accessible 24/7. The post office can be reached by calling 401-851-6972.

Vehicle Registration Tax Information

The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act exempts non-Rhode Island residents on active duty in Rhode Island from motor vehicle excise tax. Any non-Rhode Island resident considering getting a Rhode Island license plate, or who has already obtained a Rhode Island license plate, should file an application with their town assessors' office (if you live on base, file in Newport). This exempts the military person, not their dependents, from paying vehicle tax. It does not exempt a vehicle owned by a leasing company and leased to a military person. It is only in force for the period you are permanently assigned to NS Newport.

Once departing Rhode Island, and after a reasonable time (30 days), it is assumed you have decided to keep the registration and accept the responsibility of paying the tax. Plates and registration cards must be returned to the Rhode Island DMV, 100 Main St., Pawtucket, RI 02860.

You should request a cancellation receipt (TR-3) and mail a copy of that receipt to the Rhode Island town in which you resided. For more information, go to www.dmv.ri.gov and remember to ask the registry about this exemption.

Veterinary Clinic

The U.S. Army Newport Veterinary Clinic, in Building 1255, Whipple Street, next to Leisure Bay, is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. one Saturday a month. Pets are seen by appointment only. Call 401-841-3994 to schedule an appointment or for information.

Only active-duty military personnel, their dependents, Reservists, National Guard members and retired military personnel are authorized to use the clinic.

The clinic offers wellness exams, minor sick call exams, routine vaccinations, pet supplies,

The on-base veterinary clinic is located behind the coffee shop on base. All pets on board NS Newport must be on a leash at all times.

ARMED SERVICES YMCA

Strengthening our Military Family.

Armed Services YMCA

The Armed Services YMCA is a non-profit 501 (c) (3) and its mission is to enhance the lives of military members and their families in spirit, mind and body through programs relevant to the unique challenges of military life.

We focus on serving junior enlisted service members and their families through 34 branches, located near or on 59 of the largest military installations in the country. We provide services at more than 200 locations with a small number of paid employees and 10,000+ volunteers donating 112,000+ hours to 500,000+ troops and their family members in 2015.

Our Programs, Services, and Events

In coordination with the Department of Defense and installation commands, we work closely to identify gaps in programs and services. Programs are tailored to help cope with the realities of military life, including the stress of having a loved one deployed, additional childcare responsibilities and increased financial burdens. Healthy families contribute substantially to the success of the military and defense community during peacetime and more importantly, in times of combat. The Armed Services YMCA promotes strong kids, families and communities through our many support services.

The following are a few examples:*

Youth Development

- After school programs
- Aquatic Classes

Regular Toll Service

NOTE: DO NOT use regular toll service to call areas reachable via DSN or tie-lines.

Local calls dialed with the R.I. area code, 401, will incur charges.

Direct Dial within Rhode Island .....99+1+Area Code & Number

Outside Rhode Island .....99+1+Area Code & Number

There is no access to an outside operator from a base phone.

4. ASSISTANCE

For Base Information (Auto Attendant) .....841-3456

For Verizon Directory Assistance Inside R.I.

Long Distance and Toll-Free Numbers..... 99-411

NOTE: There is a 55 cent charge for each call made to Directory Assistance.

5. TO TRANSFER INCOMING CALLS

Depress the "transfer" button in the receiver rest of your telephone instrument. Dial the five-digit number to which you are transferring the call. When you hear the dial tone, depress the "transfer" button and hang up your phone. The call will automatically be transferred.

6. CONFERENCE ARRANGEMENTS

Conference arrangement circuits are included in the telephone system. Conference service is provided at no cost, although toll charges will be billed for each long-distance call. Conference service is that of furnishing simultaneous connections among three to seven telephone stations, including a long-distance party, if required on the connection, either on the basis that each may communicate with all the others or that one station is the transmitting station and all others are receiving stations. Further information is available at the Telephone Office, 841-7202.

Conference service is available to all component commands and associated activities located on the east side of Narragansett Bay who are currently served via the NAVSTA Central Telephone Office.

B. REGULATIONS

1. USE OF THE TELEPHONES DURING AN EMERGENCY

Telephones shall not be used during a general emergency or a condition of disaster, except for emergency official calls. Do not call the operator for information concerning the condition of the emergency, as this information will not be furnished. Incoming and outgoing calls will be challenged by the operator. Calls not identified as "emergency calls" will not be completed until the emergency is over. Calls in progress are monitored; those which are found not to be emergency official calls will be disconnected without notice and reported to heads of activities concerned for disciplinary action. All telephone users are urged to refrain from dialing other telephones unless calls are essential. This is necessary to prevent overloading and jamming of the automatic equipment. If your telephone should ring, answer it promptly, and make your conversation as brief as possible. At no time should classified information be discussed on a non-secure phone.

2. PERSONAL CALLS

Navy telephones will be used for official calls only. The use of official telephones for personal purposes at government expense is unauthorized and violators will be subject to disciplinary action. Public telephone booths have been placed at convenient locations for the use of personnel desiring to place unofficial calls. Personal calls in excess of $1,000 per month or $100 per call may be prosecuted. Lesser charges may be filed for lesser offenses.

3. TELEPHONE MONITORING

Department of Defense (DOD) telephone communications systems are provided for the transmission of official government information only and are subject to telephone security monitoring and telephone communications support equipment monitoring at all times.

The use of DOD telephone communications systems constitutes consent to telephone communications security and management monitoring.

Telephone communications security monitoring is defined as listening to or recording telephone communications on DOD-dedicated systems or the common-user systems of the Defense Communications System, by any means, for the purpose of determining whether the systems are functioning properly or being used for other than official purposes.

Telephone communications management monitoring is defined as monitoring by government or contractor personnel for the purpose of normal operations, maintenance and repair of telephone trunks, lines and equipment.

4. LONG-DISTANCE OFFICIAL LINES

Instructions on the authorization for placing long-distance telephone calls have been issued by many Navy commands. These instructions should be consulted prior to the placing of long-distance telephone calls. Long-distance calls for personal use are not authorized under any circumstances.

5. LEASED LONG-DISTANCE LINES

Leased lines to Newport are available for official use, as are DSN circuits. These lines have been installed in an attempt to reduce long-distance toll charges, as well as for control of availability of circuits to these points. It should be noted that these services are not free. Therefore, the use of these circuits should be governed by the intent of the same rules and regulations afforded commercial toll calling.

6. DEFENSE SWITCHED NETWORK (DSN)

General. The DSN is the principal long-haul, voice communications network used by the Department of Defense (DOD) providing non-secure direct distance dialing service worldwide through a system of government-owned and leased automatic switching facilities. The purpose of DSN is to handle essential command and control, operations, intelligence, logistic, diplomatic and administrative traffic.

Precedence. The Joint Uniform Telephone Communications Precedence System is directed for use by all authorized users of voice communications facilities of the Department of Defense. Since the effectiveness of the system depends upon cooperation on the part of persons authorized to employ it, users must be familiar with the purpose to be served by each level of precedence category and the types of calls that may be assigned the respective precedence.

Use of the DSN

- a. Will be authorized for only official communications.
- b. Will be restricted to:
  - (1) Only those calls that are essential requiring a timeliness that cannot be obtained by other means (mail/message) and would stand the scrutiny afforded a commercial toll call.
  - (2) The minimum time required to accomplish the official business and will not normally exceed five minutes.
  - (3) The use of a precedence level in consonance with the subject matter of the call as established in the Joint Uniform Telephone Communications Precedence System.
  - (4) Voice-data, facsimile and graphic service in DSN will normally not exceed a continuous transmission time of 15 minutes nor a total transmission time of one hour during normal business hours.

REGULATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS

Due to the limited availability of DSN circuits, violators will be disconnected without notice.

c. Will NOT be authorized for:

- (1) Use directly or indirectly by any non-appropriated fund activities (clubs, exchanges, CBQs and other unofficial activities) provided telephone service at post, camp, station or base level except when provided by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
  - (2) Calls within an installation, metropolitan area, or those confined geographical areas where other existing government-provided local telephone service is adequate.
  - (3) Unofficial or personal calls.
  - (4) Off-net extension of calls into the commercial system at a distant PBX-PABX, except where such extension has been previously approved by the local authority controlling the switchboard.
- d. Precedence and Inter-Area DSN Calls. Precedence DSN service is not available through the Newport telephone office.
- e. DDSN User Trouble Reporting. When trouble is encountered by users while utilizing DSN, the following procedures should be taken:
- (1) Retain the circuit connection and report the trouble immediately to the local operator via another telephone.
  - (2) Give the details of the DSN trouble as follows:
    - (a) Your extension number and location.
    - (b) The DSN number and location of the called party.
    - (c) Brief description of trouble and the time it occurred. Items requiring repair, such as frayed cords and broken telephone parts, are not DSN trouble and should be reported directly to 841-7202.

7. TELEPHONE OWNERSHIP

Most telephone instruments and equipment are NOT government property. This equipment is leased to the Navy by commercial vendors in accordance with contract agreements governed by the legally established tariffs of the state of Rhode Island. Theft or misuse of the equipment could result in criminal charges. Commanding officers are responsible for assuring that telephones and associated equipment are used in accordance with Navy regulations and the Rhode Island tariffs. Users are not authorized to do their own telephone wiring without express permission of the NAVSTA telephone office.

Request for Telephone Service

NAVSTA has been designated as the Activity Providing Telephone Service (APTS) for all Newport area Navy commands and activities. All requests for telephone service must be submitted to the Base Telephone Office, Building 76CC.

All requests for telephone service will be made in writing (typed) using the Telephone Service Request (TSR) or by typed memorandum using a similar format. Requests must be signed by a person authorized to obligate funds for your command. Oral requests and handwritten requests are not acceptable except in cases of emergencies. Requests for emergency service must be confirmed in writing as soon as possible.

Customers should allow up to two (2) weeks for the Base Communications Office to complete routine TSRs (adds, moves, changes, etc). Customers should allow up to 48 hours for the Base Communications Office to complete trouble calls.

Each request will be evaluated in accordance with the policies promulgated by the chief of naval operations and the Navy Telep anual. It is essential that the requested service and equipment be completely described and that information justification as to its military necessity be provided.

A valid point of contact must be listed on each request. The base administrative telephone officer is available for assistance in the planning and preparation of the request required.

Busy Conditions

The NAVSTA Telephone System is designed for efficiency as well as economy, but it does have its limitations. During peak hours of 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m., many calls may be blocked. Data transmission and long telephone calls should be made during non-peak hours whenever possible. Excessive busy conditions on any phone may indicate an equipment problem and should be reported to the Telephone Office, 841-7202, whether it is a phone that you are calling or a report that your phone is always found to be busy.

911 Service

911 emergency calling service (fire, ambulance, police) is implemented in Rhode Island. It is possible to access this service from an on-base telephone by dialing 911. It is of utmost importance that you remain on the line to answer any questions the dispatcher may have. Fraudulent use of 911 service may be grounds for criminal charges.

C. TELEPHONE SYSTEM SPECIAL FEATURES

1. USING YOUR TELEPHONE

Special Restrictions

The Newport naval complex telephone system is ideally designed for single-line phones. If you have a multiple-line phone (key set) where several people share the extensions or the phone is answered by a central answering service, many of the features are not recommended. For instance, if you activate automatic callback and someone else answers the phone when the call back comes through, they will not know whom the call is for. Multiple-line phones might not ring three short rings for a callback and it will be impossible to distinguish between a call and a callback. Many of the special features are available from touch-tone phones only.

Features Requiring Special Dial Codes

Dial codes are simply instructions to your telephone system that you wish to activate or cancel a specific feature. Remember, you must always listen for DIAL TONE or RECALL DIAL TONE before dialing a dial code or telephone number. Otherwise, the system will not respond to your request.

Distinctive Ringing

Distinctive ringing is a feature of the telephone system that is available on all single-line sets and some multiple-line key sets. Sometimes it is useful to know if a call is coming from on-base or off-base. With the base phone system, the type of ringing tells you where the call is coming from. One ring repeated every few seconds means the call is coming from on-base. Two short rings repeated every few seconds tells you the call is from off-base. Three short rings repeated every few seconds indicates a system callback.

Non-Distinctive Ringing

Electronic phones, multiple-line phones that have a central answering position, or multiple-line phones where a common bell rings for several extensions will have non-distinctive ringing and only ONE ring will be heard instead of the distinctive ringing listed above.

Which Codes to Use

The telephone system is actually a group of telephone switches combined into a single network. Not all features are available at all telephones. When in doubt, or if you wish to arrange for user training, call the telephone office at ext. 7202.

2. CALL FORWARDING – ALL CALLS

Call forwarding allows you to redirect your incoming calls to another phone within the base telephone system. All calls to your phone will ring at the designated phone. Use call forwarding when you are going to be away from your desk, or you do not wish to be disturbed.

To Use Call Forwarding (Analog sets)

- a. Lift the handset and listen for dial tone.
- b. Dial the call forwarding code *22 and listen for dial tone.
- c. If forwarding to a local phone number, dial 99 + 1 + area code + then the 7-digit number to which your calls are to be forwarded and listen for confirmation tone.
- d. If forwarding to a long distance phone number, dial 98 + 1 + area code + then the 7-digit number to which your calls are to be forwarded and listen for confirmation tone.
- e. Hang up immediately. Your calls will be forwarded. If you hear the siren (intercept) tone at steps 2 or 3 it may mean:
  - (1) Call forwarding has already been activated.
  - (2) Dial the call forwarding cancel code #22 and listen for confirmation tone.
  - (3) Hang up immediately. The forwarding is cancelled.

To Use Call Forwarding (Digital sets)

- a. Lift the handset and listen for dial tone.
- b. Dial the call forwarding code *22 and listen for dial tone.

- c. Dial the number of the phone from which you are call forwarding.
- d. If forwarding to a local phone number, dial 99 + 1 + area code + then the 7-digit number to which your calls are to be forwarded and listen for confirmation tone.
- e. If forwarding to a long distance phone number, dial 98 + 1 + area code + then the 7-digit number to which your calls are to be forwarded and listen for confirmation tone.
- f. Hang up immediately. Your calls will be forwarded. If you hear the siren (intercept) tone at steps 2 or 3 it may mean:
  - (1) Call forwarding has already been activated.
  - (2) Dial the call forwarding cancel code #22 and listen for confirmation tone.
  - (3) Hang up immediately. The forwarding is cancelled.

You may still place calls from your phone when call forwarding is in effect. You cannot forward calls to an outside number. You can only forward calls to another telephone in the base telephone system. When your telephone is in the call forwarding mode the phone will "ping" every time a call has been forwarded. You cannot answer the call. The "ping" is there to remind you that your calls are being forwarded.

You may forward your calls to only one other phone at a time. However, several people may forward their calls to the same phone. If a person is forwarding their calls to you, you cannot forward their calls to another phone. Even if you activate call forwarding from your phone, the first person's call will ring at your phone.

Call forwarding should be cancelled from the phone that activated it. It cannot be cancelled from the phone receiving the forwarded calls. You can activate call forwarding to another phone even if that phone is busy at the time.

3. CALL COVERAGE

Call coverage is similar to call forwarding. It allows your calls to be redirected to another telephone whenever your telephone is busy or you don't answer within a predetermined number of rings. Call coverage has many different options available, all of which must be programmed by the base telephone office into the telephone system. If you have a need for call coverage, contact the base telephone office in writing with a detailed description of your requirements. The telephone office will contact you to answer any questions and to arrange for user training.

4. CALL HOLD

Call hold provides a way to place a call on hold without the use of a hold button. Of course, if your telephone still has a hold button, it will work the same way it always did. But whether you have a hold button or not, you can still use the feature. Use call hold when you wish to look up information, consult privately with a third party, alternate between two parties on hold, or when you already have a call on your line and you wish to activate another feature without disconnecting the call.

To Put a Call on Hold, Assume a Call is Already on Your Line

- a. Depress the switchhook and listen for recall dial tone. Do NOT hang up.

To Return to Your Held Call

- a. Depress the switchhook and listen for confirmation tone. Resume conversation.

To Consult Privately with a Third Party, Assume a Call is Already on Your Line

- a. Depress the switchhook and listen for recall dial tone.
- b. Dial third party's number and wait for party to answer. If you receive a busy signal or your party does not answer just hang up. Your phone will ring. Answer and resume your conversation with the first party who is now back on the line. Either or both parties may be outside the base telephone system.

You may only have one party on hold at a time. You cannot hang up to transfer a call or depress the switchhook to form a three-way conversation after you have used call hold. You must return your held call first and then follow the procedures for transfer or three-way conversation.

5. CALL PICKUP

Call pickup allows you to answer a phone ringing at another location without leaving your desk. The ringing phone must be in your call pickup group. A call pickup group may be programmed by the base telephone office at your request. The base telephone office will be able to tell you which phone numbers you can "pick up."

Assume that you are at your desk and you hear a phone ringing at a nearby desk. You do not have the ringing phone number available on your telephone set. With the call pickup feature, you can answer the ringing phone without leaving your desk.

To Use Call Pickup (When Your Phone is Idle)

- a. Lift the handset and listen for dial tone.
- b. Dial the call pickup code *33. The call is immediately directed to your phone.
- c. Identify yourself and begin conversation.

To Hold a Call and Use Call Pickup

- a. Depress the switchhook and listen for recall dial tone.
- b. Dial the call pickup code *33. The call is immediately directed to your phone.
- c. Identify yourself and begin conversation.
- d. Hang up to return to held call. Your phone will ring.
- e. Answer and resume conversation. If you hear siren (intercept) tone or fast busy tone at step 3, hang up to return to your held call.

Siren (Intercept) Tone May Mean

- a. You cannot pick up calls to that phone (check your pickup).
- b. The caller has hung up.
- c. The call has already been answered.

Fast busy tone means another feature has been activated on that phone that temporarily prohibits you picking up the call.

When you pick up a call, it becomes your call and does not remain on the called phone. Once you pick up a call, you can handle it like any other call to your phone. This means, for instance, that you can transfer the call to another telephone.

6. THREE-WAY CONVERSATION AND TRANSFER

Three-way conversation and transfer are variations of one feature. Both begin by depressing the switchhook, which excludes your present party from the call (places the call on hold), and give you a recall dial tone so that you can dial a third party.

You may transfer a call to another person without the assistance of the telephone operator or your attendant. Assume that you have a call on your line that you wish to transfer:

- a. Depress the switchhook and listen for dial tone.
- b. Dial the number of the party to whom you wish to transfer.
- c. When the party answers, announce the call and hang up. The call is transferred.

You should never transfer a caller from outside the base telephone system to another party outside the base telephone system. If a call is transferred to a toll phone number, the person making the transfer will be liable for the toll charges. Some transfers are automatically restricted.

The three-way conversation feature allows you to add a third party to an existing call and works very much like the transfer feature:

- a. Depress the switchhook and listen for dial tone.
- b. Dial the number of the party you wish to add to your call.
- c. Party answers. Depress the switchhook and all three parties are connected. If any party hangs up, the remaining two parties can continue talking.

You are limited to a total of three parties; yourself and two other people on a three-way call. There is no restriction on the nature of the other two calls on the conference, either or both of the other parties may be inside or outside the base telephone system.

If you cannot reach the third party for any reason, you should depress the switchhook to return to your held call. Depress the switchhook twice if the third party is outside the base telephone system. The first depression always brings your original party back on the line, and the second depression releases the outside or second line (very important if it was a toll call!).

7. LAST NUMBER REDIAL

The last number called can be redialed by pressing the last number redial access code *99.

This feature is not yet available on all phones.
